The Directory Scope and Sequence

This Directory is dedicated to the children we all seek to serve – and to the parents and professionals who work so hard to meet their academic, social, vocational, and emotional needs.

This updated edition of the directory gives information on new addresses, new telephone numbers, and new staff as well as new services. As conditions throughout North America change, so does the nature of remedial and developmental services. Use this new, updated edition over any previous editions.

• Choosing a facility or service for an LD child/adolescent/adult is a heavy responsibility for a parent. And the professional making a referral bears an equally weighty charge. Please remember that facilities differ in the remedial thrust they are using. Ask pertinent questions regarding the philosophy used and how it is implemented. How best to do this? Here are a few suggestions gleaned from many conversations with parents and professionals: (1) Visit the facility and meet with its director and staff. Pay at least one prolonged visit while students are there. (2) Ascertain the staff's credentials – degrees and experience. (3) Observe the students – do they seem busy and cheerful or are they unsmiling and “turned off?” Are they being taught or merely involved in “busy work?” (4) Don't be misled by a glossy brochure or sumptuous building. Some of the best teaching goes on in very modest settings. (5) And, most important of all, seek out several parents whose children are or have been enrolled in the facility/service. Better than anyone else, they will be knowledgeable and candid.

- For services other than a school setting (diagnostic/testing, psychological counseling, speech/language, vision therapy, sensory integration, educational therapy, et cetera), several of the above suggestions (1, 2, and 5) can be followed.

- For those making inquiries prior to moving to a new locality, choose a facility/service that seems to offer what the child needs and then send a letter of inquiry, including a comprehensive statement about the child. Give information about the child's specific problem, age, physical condition, emotional health, intellectual capacities, previous remedial programs. This initial letter should not be lengthy but rather exploratory. Once a satisfactory response has been received, then the steps mentioned above should be taken.

- An excellent information source is the 700 plus chapters of ACLD (Association for Children and Adults with Learning Disabilities) located throughout the 50 states. ACLD members are almost without exception knowledgeable about community facilities. (A list of state affiliates can be obtained from ACLD, 4156 Library Road, Pittsburgh, PA 15234. Each state affiliate can provide a list of local chapters.)

- For those who feel their service or facility should be included in the next edition of the DIRECTORY, 1989-90, please contact the Directory Editor for further information before sending material.

- For your use in making the most of this valuable Directory, note that you can locate services in three ways. All services and facilities are listed alphabetically by states. So, if you are looking for something in your state or an adjoining one, this would be the first place to start. You can, if looking for a specific service by name, use the Alphabetical Index on pages 136-143. Or, if you are looking for a specific service, let's say tutoring or speech and language, you can use the Primary Service Index on pages 144-152.

- For the best possible use of the Directory, study the Code Key. If, for example, you wish to know the number of professionals on staff, phone number, fee schedules, etc., all of this information is neatly coded. Once you've studied the Key, then you will be able to comfortably select the service you wish to explore.

The publication and distribution of this Directory are collaborative efforts of those listed in its pages and the staff of Academic Therapy Publications. (It should be noted that inclusion of a facility/service in the Directory is not and cannot be construed as an endorsement.) Copies of the Directory are available at no charge. However, individuals and organizations requesting copies should include a $2.00 postage/handling fee for each copy. Direct requests to ATP's offices at 20 Commercial Blvd., Novato, CA 94947-6191.

BRAIN DEVELOPMENT CENTER

5328 W. 142nd Place, Hawthorne, California 90250 U.S.A.

Improve your child's behavior, self-esteem, enthusiasm for learning and grades. Dramatic results in one to six weeks with Hanson's Motivation Techniques. We were the first to offer 24 hour intensive therapy and have over 25 years of excellent results. Almost all ages can be changed quickly including dyslexia and learning disabilities no matter what other experts say. Our motto is "Never Give Up Hope - There is a way if we look hard enough" We know we will be successful; How successful depends on a number of factors such as age, parents, time available and other resources.

Analysis of normal children prevents possible problems and develops hidden talents. If you want the best for your college student or any age, this is the place to come first. We are the most expensive at first but having the problems solved in just a few weeks is usually the best way to go. John M. Hanson, the director of our center, is the nation's leading Speed Reading teacher and is the inventor of Tootles, used by millions all over the world to improve vision, coordination, math, reading, motivation and many other worthwhile things for homes and schools.

IT WORKS!!!

Lake Grove's uniquely successful program continues to make it possible for hard-to-place students to avoid institutionalization and live productive lives.

Backed by forty years experience, Lake Grove's fully certified, dedicated and highly professional staff provides 24 hour supervision in a warm, highly structured environment. Each student receives a full range of therapeutic, educative, medical, and residential services, as well as genuine incentive and opportunity to become a productive citizen.

LAKE GROVE SCHOOL

Moriches Road, Box L

Lake Grove, New York 11765-0712

516-585-8776

Lake Grove School, located on 75 rural acres in New York's historic Suffolk County, provides a highly successful program for troubled adolescents who have not responded well in other settings. Lake Grove serves three uniquely handicapped populations:

- deaf/emotionally disturbed
- severely emotionally disturbed
- autistic/developmentally disabled

LAKE GROVE AT DURHAM

Wallingford Road, P.O. Box 659

Durham, Connecticut 06422-0659

203-349-3467

Lake Grove at Durham, located on 55 wooded New England acres, provides a quality comprehensive program of educational, residential and vocational development for adolescents and adults. The Lake Grove program at Durham is designed to meet the needs of hard to place:

- emotionally disturbed
- mentally retarded
- developmentally disabled
- multiply handicapped

THE YODER DAY SCHOOL

250 East 79 Street
NEW YORK, NY 10021
212-535-8124

*Established 1949
Grades 1-12*

Underachievers

The Yoder Day School is a small, highly structured, traditional school specializing in the education of bright normal underachieving learning disabled students. A complete academic program is offered in grades 1-12.

A quiet, peaceful atmosphere is maintained throughout the school to enable students to concentrate and reduce distractions. Staff and student interactions are warm and supportive. Only students whose behavior is conducive to a quiet, well ordered environment are enrolled.

Underachievers and learning disabled students receive testing to determine achievement levels and identify specific learning disabilities. Those with test anxiety are evaluated indirectly. Educational strategies and an individual educational plan (IEP) are developed for each student. A combination of small group and one to one instruction is then utilized to bring the students up to grade level and accelerate those whose potential is greater.

Underachieving students can thrive in this quiet, non-threatening environment. They are taught to organize their work and work habits. Those with anxiety related to learning, school attendance or testing receive special personalized attention in these areas. Students with limited vision or hearing impairments have instructional methods and materials tailored to their needs.

The staff consists of highly trained professionals. Elementary level teachers are Learning Disabled Specialists while high school teachers are certified in subject areas and/or learning disabilities. The ratio of staff to students is 1 to 3.

The school is located in a modern, four story, air conditioned school building. Transportation is available by both public and private bus lines. The subway is also within walking distance.

Dr. Elizabeth J. Ferraro who is both a School Administrator and Learning Disabilities Specialist is the Director of the school. She has been active in the administration, curriculum development and evaluation of programs for children with learning disabilities for the past 15 years.

Students are accepted through the school year. For admissions information please contact the school.

A structured, traditional, independent day school for students with average or above average intelligence who have been diagnosed as having a specific learning disability such as dyslexia or attention-deficit syndrome.

Our school is private, co-educational and highly personalized. Students are accepted in grades one through twelve and the curriculum throughout is college prep. A personal program is designed for each student. Students are sent back to the mainstream as soon as attitude, confidence, and performance levels are appropriate. The emphasis is on academic and social coping skills for the mainstream.

SOAR'S OUTDOOR LEARNING CENTER in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains features success oriented, high adventure programming for LD teens and preteens. A full range of summer expeditions and weekend adventures are scheduled. Emphasis is on developing self-confidence, peer interaction, problem-solving skills, a willingness to try new things and the motivation that comes through goal orientation. The result is an individual who is more aware of personal strengths and more willing to confront personal weaknesses. The out-of-doors provides an ideal classroom where relevant learning can occur and life-skills can be taught. Adventure activities include wilderness backpacking, rock climbing, white-water rafting and canoeing, wildlife studies, mountaineering and wilderness medicine. Special programs are planned in the Florida Keys and Colorado Rockies. An innovative academic remediation program combined with expedition adventures is available for a limited number of students. Staff to student ratio is a low 1 to 3. Safety is always of utmost importance. For more information on learning designed to "uncover" rather than "cover" the subject contact Mr. Jonathan A. Jones, Project Director.

The Phelps School

The Phelps School is an accredited boarding school for boys grades 7 - 12. Dedicated to the personal and academic development of each boy, Phelps provides a structured environment for boys who are not achieving to their potential in their current school settings, or are experiencing deficiencies in basic subjects. Phelps accepts emotionally healthy boys of average or above average ability, who have good moral character. The school's 144 acre campus is located 22 miles west of Philadelphia. Phelps offers an international student body; seven inter-scholastic sports; an indoor equestrian center; and course-work in ESL, typing, art, woodworking, farming, and foreign languages.

HIGH NOON BOOKS

resource in your program!*

HIGH NOON BOOKS are hi-interest—low-level novels for youngsters in LD, ESL, and remedial reading programs who need an extra boost to move them along in reading. They have been designed for free and recreational reading—and to keep them that way, we've taken great pains to exclude comprehension checks and to make them look very adult.

Each book—

- ★ is 5x7 with an attractive “adult-like” cover
- ★ has 48 pages, with 44 of text, and a maximum of five fine pen and ink illustrations
- ★ has a spine for the “adult” look
- ★ has been carefully designed for young people who won't be embarrassed to carry them around
- ★ has carefully controlled sentence and paragraph length and vocabulary

We'll be pleased to send you our brand new, four-color catalog. Just send a card to:

What Is An ACLD?

The Association for Children and Adults with Learning Disabilities is a membership organization for professionals, adults with learning disabilities, and parents of children with learning disabilities. The national ACLD office provides general information about learning disabilities, while the 787 local chapters provide referrals to physicians and treatment centers. The ACLD conducts its own research into the link between juvenile delinquency and learning disabilities. With its state affiliates, ACLD works directly with school systems for early identification and diagnosis, as well as remediation in integrated specialized classroom situations. Direct services, such as parent counseling, are provided by many of the local chapters; no direct services are available at the national level.

Through state and national conferences, the ACLD distributes information on new technology for teaching the learning disabled. For these meetings, ACLD gathers outstanding professionals to speak and answer questions concerning the nature of learning disabilities and education available to the learning disabled. Pamphlets and scientific reprints are available at no cost. National lists of colleges, private schools, and summer camps with facilities for the learning disabled are compiled and updated by the national organization. The ACLD newsletter covers clinical advancements and legislative developments affecting the learning disabled. A bibliography of more than 400 professional and lay publications on learning disabilities is available.

ACLD is governed by its Officers and Board of Directors composed primarily of volunteer parents, but its strength also springs from its close affiliation with professionals in the field, including the Professional Advisory Board, which offers counsel on professional and technical areas.

THE COUNCIL FOR EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

The Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) is a national professional organization that provides information on behalf of its membership for children with special educational needs — gifted children, children with learning disabilities, and children who have emotional, cognitive, motor, visual, auditory, or communication handicaps. Members include special education teachers and administrators, related services professionals such as school psychologists and social workers, parents, and others who are directly concerned with improving the quality of life for exceptional children, both gifted and handicapped.

CEC activities include:

- Coordinate and support a network of local chapters and state and provincial federations, as well as special education divisions representing specific areas of interest within the field of special education.
- Provide information to teachers, administrators, parents, and others concerning the education of exceptional children.
- Maintain the most complete collection of special education literature in the world through its Department of Information Services and the ERIC Clearinghouse on Handicapped and Gifted Children.
- Prepare major publications in the form of books, monographs, fact sheets, films, filmstrips, and tape cassettes to assist educators.
- Provide technical assistance and training to school districts, state departments of education and other agencies.

CEC is concerned with children, youth and adults and can be of assistance in planning programs for the disabled adult.

PRESIDENT'S COMMITTEE ON EMPLOYMENT OF THE HANDICAPPED

The President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped (PCEH) serves in an advocacy and public awareness role in fostering job opportunities for handicapped people. As part of this effort, PCEH works with autonomous committees on employment of the handicapped at state and local levels, as well as producing its own publications and services.

The President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped provides information primarily in the area of employment, and has published pamphlets on architectural accessibility and education for handicapped youth. General information is provided on the Committee's activities and selected materials provided by PCEH are sent on request. All services are available free to the public. There are a number of publications which will be of assistance to the adult educator. They include the following:

Affirmative Action for Disabled People: A Guide, a brief explanation of Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Resources for the Vocational Preparation of Disabled Youth, a bibliography which has many materials of interest to the adult educator.

The College Student with a Disability: A Faculty Handbook, a booklet which includes information on how to instruct the disabled college student, much of which can be adapted to the adult student.

Learning Disability: Not Just a Problem Children Outgrow, a booklet discussing how the LD adult can be instructed with a listing of resources that will be useful in planning adult education programs.

Independent Living Ideas — Planning tips for Disabled students.

RECORDING FOR THE BLIND

Recording for the Blind supplies taped educational books in cassette form for students who are blind or who are visually impaired, or have physical and perceptual handicaps that in any way prevent a person from reading normal printed materials. The books are free on loan. Recording for the Blind also serves adults who require specialized taped educational materials to maintain business and professional roles and accepts special requests to tape textbooks which are not already contained in its Master Tape Library. These titles are then added to the Library's 60,000 titles at the average rate of 350 each month.

A current catalog of Recording for the Blind master tapes is available at a minimum charge in print form. Each year a supplement to the catalog is printed.

EDUCATIONAL TESTING SERVICE

Educational Testing Service and the College Board offer students with visual, physical, and learning disabilities a variety of special editions of the SAT, including regular type, large type, braille, and cassette versions. In addition, students with learning disabilities may opt for additional testing time when taking a regular edition SAT on designated national test administration dates. Achievement tests may also be taken with extended testing times.

NATIONAL INFORMATION CENTER FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION MATERIALS

The National Information Center for Special Education is funded by the Office of Special Education, U.S. Department of Education. It is a computerized bibliographic information retrieval system containing more than 36,000 records of commercially available audiovisuals, print and braille materials, equipment, and adaptive devices for all educational levels of handicapped persons. NICSEM indexes materials applicable to all types of handicapping conditions, including materials in the following areas: cognition and perception, motor processes, career and vocational education, guidance, language, instruction approaches, minority groups, and specific subjects such as mathematics and science. While the materials are focused on children and youth, adult educators will find that much of the information available can be adapted to adult students.

The National Information Center for Special Education publishes a variety of indexes produced from the data base. A master index of the complete data base is also available.

Other publications include the NICSEM Index to Nonprint Special Education Materials—Multimedia which comes in two sections: 1) "Learner Volume," with more than 35,000 titles and abstracts on materials suitable for direct instruction of the handicapped; and 2) "Professional Volume," which contains over 5,000 abstracts of materials for use by parents, teachers, and other professionals.

There is a charge for indexes and for most other NICSEM publications, which include the Thesaurus, of interest to those who wish to conduct searches from the data base.

THE ORTON DYSLEXIA SOCIETY

The Orton Dyslexia Society is an international membership organization for professionals, adult dyslexics, and parents of dyslexic children. Its purposes are to disseminate information related to dyslexia, and to guide persons with dyslexia and parents of dyslexic children to available resources for diagnosis, remediation, and tutoring. The Society has 30 volunteer branches which serve the needs of their individual communities by offering guidance, workshops, and seminars.

The Society can provide some general information to inquirers by telephone or by letter; most information requests are met through their publications on dyslexia and related learning disabilities. The Orton Dyslexia Society Annals of Dyslexia (formerly the ODS Bulletin) is a compilation of papers on theoretical issues, research, and practical applications. Audiotapes of individual conference papers are available. The Society also publishes a newsletter, Perspective on Dyslexia.

ACADEMIC THERAPY

Why is Academic Therapy the most preferred journal for resource specialists, LD teachers, diagnosticians, and others working day in and day out with the learning disabled?

Let's listen to the experts in learning disabilities . . .

"AT serves a definite need for practitioners in special education . . ."
Samuel Kirk, PhD, The University of Arizona.

"A number one source for practical aid . . . More useful teaching ideas per page than any other publication in the field." Barbara Bateman, PhD, JD, University of Oregon.

"No other educational journal is so sincerely child-centered. No other educational journal consistently brings such pertinent material to its readers . . ." G.N. Getman, OD.

"The only journal that provides 'hands on' articles and the rationale for such approaches as well as subjects not dealt with in other journals . . ."
Doreen Kronick MA, York University.

"AT is written for professionals who see children—one cannot escape the enthusiasm and commitment of its authors . . ." A.J. Kirshner, OD, FAAO.

Pertinent information . . . Academic Therapy is published five times a year (September, November, January, March, and May) and includes listings of new materials from other publishers; news about private remedial centers; U.S. Office of Education bulletins; guest editorials and interviews; up-to-date conference schedules, et cetera.

How to subscribe . . . For subscription information write: Jacqueline Migliore, Circulation Dept., Academic Therapy, 20 Commercial Blvd., Novato, CA 94947-6191 or call (415) 883-3314.
